Burger king delivery near me number

What's up Burger King? I'm 70 and been eating your meals for many years, from California to Arizona, never have I ever had an issue with any of your restaurants and or the way you operate your business, such as specials that comes from the corporate office, manager specials, coupons, specials that are on television, until now, the end of January 2022 and February 1st. I saw on television and was impressed with the special $5.00 meal, well I'm sad to report to you that not all of your restaurants are honoring the price, I've been told from two restaurants that the meal is in there system for $6.00 and they can't and won't change the price and honor your advertisement, now one dollar plus the tax isn't a lot of money, but some of us are on a fixed income and every dollar is more valuable than a few years ago, but that's really not the point, you at corporate take the time and money to run this special for your customers and a number of your restaurants don't honor the price you set, now, that makes me question your operation of business, how can I trust your organization if your employees are not willing to observe what comes out of corporate? As a long standing customer, I hope you get this under control, thank you for letting me express my thoughts. © Order is served at your table You currently do not have any items.
